Guide for business owners

Interest groups/associations and Funds

Associations, funds, and interest groups that have obtained a Faroese V-tal from TAKS are obliged to send the following documents to Føroya Banki:

- Articles of Association that clearly state which person has registered the interest group, association, or fund.

Regardless of obtaining a V-tal, all interest groups, associations, and funds are required to send the following documents:

- Articles of Association that clearly state which person has registered the interest group, association, or fund.
- Latest report from an annual general meeting
- Report from the latest general board meeting, which clarifies the board structure and how the members of the board have been elected (if this is not described in the Articles of Association).
- Valid ID* from authorized signers and any attorney-in-fact (i.e., anyone who holds a power of attorney).

Authorized signers are:

- Physical person(s) who, according to the company's Articles of Association, are authorized to legally bind the company (provisions regulating the power to bind). Furthermore, the Articles of Association should clearly state which person(s) can register the company.
- The annual general report states how the board has been assembled, and Føroya Banki requires a copy of the document and valid ID from the physical person(s) who are authorized to register the company with relevant authorities.

Sole proprietorship

- Vinnuprógv issued by TAKS
- Valid ID from the owners* of the company, authorized signers, and any attorney-in-fact.

Private Limited Company Sp/F, Limited Company P/F, Entrepreneurship ÍVF

- Copy of the document from Partafelagsskránni (Skáseting Føroya) containing information regarding management, authorized signers, and the Vinnuprógv issued by TAKS.
- Latest Articles of Association
- Eigarabók, i.e., the official document that clearly states the actual owners of the company.
- Documentation pertaining to the company structure and ownership. If no such documentation exists Føroya Banki requires that you produce a diagram showing how ownership is structured
- Valid ID* from actual owners, authorized signers and, if relevant, from any attorney-in-fact.

Partnership/Íognarfeløg í/F

- Copy of the official document from Partafelagsskránni (Skáseting Føroya) containing information regarding management, authorized signers, and the Vinnuprógv from TAKS.
- Include partnership contracts if:
 - If the owner of a partnership is a company/companies a partnership contract is required.
 - If a partnership contract has not been drawn up, Føroya Banki requires a copy of the company's Articles of Association, including provisions regulating the power to bind the company.
- A list of owners and the company chain of command, which is used to identify and contact the actual owners of the company when necessary.
- Valid identification documents from the actual owners of the company, authorized signers, and any attorney-in-fact.

*Accepted identification documents:

- Valid passport or driving licence
- Customers living abroad are required to provide documentation stating their address and national identity number. The documentation must be obtained from the authorities in the customer's country of residence.

Actual owners of the company are:

- Physical person(s) who are authorized to legally bind the company or who own more than 25% of the assets or have a 25% vote.
- If 25% of the assets or 25% of the vote are not held by physical person(s), then the company management is considered the actual owner.
- If the company is a subsidiary or partially/fully owned by a parent company, then Føroya Banki requires documentation regarding the chain of command and ownership in the parent company as well.
- An actual owner can also be a physical person(s) directly or indirectly in charge of management in a company. This is typically stated in an ownership or mortgaging agreement, in which case Føroya Banki requires a copy of the agreement.
- If the company is quoted on the stock exchange the, above mentioned, documents pertaining to actual owners are not required.
